SpunDyed

In order to be able to offer more sustainable garments with less environmental impact, we are looking for innovations. One area where there is potential for improvement is the dyeing of fabrics. The conventional way of dyeing textiles is to first produce the textile fiber and then dip the textile in a dye bath. The process uses chemical solutions and large amounts of fresh water.

By rethinking the entire process, we get a result that is better for the environment and also delivers more distinct and clear colors. As the raw material is dyed before it is spun into yarn, the fiber becomes saturated with dye, which gives a long-lasting and clear colour. Search for the symbol above to find our garments that are Spun Dyed and meet the standard of the future already today.

Advantages of using Spun Dyed technology over traditional dyeing:
